WILDERNESS UNLIMITED SHOULD BE IN YOUR FUTURE

Wilderness Unlimited is the west's one stop shop for outdoor opportunities. Starting back in the 1980s Wilderness Unlimited (or WU) made its reputation by accessing and managing private ranches for outdoor recreation. Today they offer fishing and hunting opportunities on thousands of acres for the discerning responsible outdoors person. They balance the managing of each ranch's renewable resources with the participant's use. Property owners are assured their interest will be protected and in many cases improved via WU's assortment of habitat improvement programs.

WU primarily operates in California and Oregon, offering year-round sporting opportunities for its members for fishing, big game, upland and waterfowl hunting opportunities behind locked gates. If that is not enough for members, WU also has its own in house outfitting business. Members can book a trip to Colorado, Africa or elsewhere with the assurance that the operation is WU endorsed.

Wilderness Unlimited, being family based has also led the way for youth and woman participation in fishing and hunting pursuits. WU's sister organization, the non-profit Wilderness Unlimited Foundation (WUF) has taken over the lead in preserving the future of our outdoor heritage by providing educational and outdoor heritage programs that emphasize participation and in fighting to maintain sportsman's rights. Together, WU and WUF are a formidable pair deserving of all sportsman's support.

There is some level of participation for everyone. Several different membership types are offered by WU to fit each member's outdoor interests.

Be part of our outdoor future by supporting one or both.
